NANCE RANCH FUND DRIVE KICKED OFF

Sharon Feese prepares cards for distribution to workers in the Nance Ranch project fund drive. Looking on is Carroll Doshier, one of the leaders in the campaign.

Canyon Community Issued Challenge

Canyon people were challenged Monday night to take the lead in raising the $100,000 needed by West Texas State University for the Nance Ranch project.

The challenge came from Carroll Doshier, Amarillo insurance man who is assisting James "Doc" Potts, who is chairman of the fund drive.

"You boys cannot just skim the cream, you've got to put something back," Doshier told some 50 persons assembled in the Gold Room of WTSU's East Cafeteria.

"I'm not wearing a white hat," said Doshier who has long been associated with efforts to improve West Texas

State. "I'm not a good guy, I'm going to make you work."

The speaker put some sting into his challenge.

Doshier said he recently heard someone say that Canyon probably would participate less than anyone in the fund raising.

"And it's right in their back yard and will benefit them more than anyone else," he quoted the person as having said.

Doshier counted the blessing West Texas State has brought to Canyon.

"This school brings things to our area that nothing else could," he declared.

"Look what Mrs. Ples Harper did with a little dream. Because of that dream the theatre in Palo Duro Canyon was built. I remember Dr. Sheffey and the museum. People in the Panhandle gave that museum brick by brick. How fortunate we are just to live here."

"You have a metro community with a small town atmosphere."

"I'm going to say it again. Boys you can't just skim the cream. You've got to put something back."

ROTC Cadet Is Honored

Herbert A. Williamson, a senior geography major from El Paso, has been designated the Fourth Army's nominee for the Republic of India visitation award.

Williamson, a veteran of Viet Nam, is a member of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at West Texas State University. He is a cadet colonel and is commander of the ROTC cadet corps at WTSU.

Williamson was chosen from more than 80 ROTC detachments in the Fourth Army area.

He will travel to India to join in the India Republic Day ceremonies to be held Jan. 27.

His appointment was announced by Lieutenant Col. John O. Childs, professor of military science at WTSU.

Women's Chamber

Name Mrs. Olsen

Mrs. Ken Olsen was elected president of the Women's Division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce by the executive board after the regular women's division meeting Tuesday night.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Bernard Warren, first vice president; Mrs. Hiram T. Carr, second vice president; Mrs. Bob McDowell, treasurer; Mrs. Pete Donnell, secretary; Mrs. A. B. Holt, parliamentarian; Mrs. Virginia Cotton and Miss Chloe Ann Black, directors.

David West, member of the men's chamber, invited the women to attend their Kick-Off Membership Breakfast next Tuesday at 7:00 a.m. He also asked the women's division to help the men in their drive.

Mrs. Betty Knowles gave the City Beautification report, asking those appointed to the new committee to examine the possibility of park improvement for the next term.

Mrs. Marcia Durden gave a report for the hospitality committee. She explained the folder "What to See and Do in Canyon" would be printed again this year.

Mrs. Virginia Cotton reported on the Public Affairs committee. The committee has been working on youth recreation, voter reminders and transportation services, and attending city commission meetings. Mrs. Cotton urged members to read the Springer Plan.

Mrs. Sharon Brown, chairman of the City Christmas Lighting committee, urged the women to begin a full scale drive for decoration funds by no later than June.

"The merchants decorated more than ever this year," Mrs. Dean Nicholas pointed out. "The response to the lighting was tremendous." The members voted to commend the merchants and citizenry for their response to the call for decorating Canyon.

Conference Cage Games Are Friday

Canyon High School girls and boys will meet Muleshoe teams in conference contests here Friday night.

The girl varsity team will play at 6:30 with the boys playing the nightcap.

For the boys it will be the second conference encounter of the season. The boys defeated the Perryton Rangers last week while Muleshoe was losing by a 15-point margin to Dumas.

Coach B. B. Kendrick said one of his reserves and a starter might not see action Friday night. Willie Johnston, jumping jack post man for Canyon, cut his hand one some glass Monday and 20 stitches were required to close the wound.

Kelly Tinsley, the reserve, twisted an ankle in practice (see CAGE, page 9)

Commissioners

Eye County Pay Hikes

Proposed pay increases for county employees held the spotlight Monday but action was delayed until next week.

Randall County Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen asked for a pay increase for himself from $10,200 to $12,000 a year and $1,000 for expenses.

Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston made a similar request. Dowlen also asked for a second assistant as well as a part time assistant to handle tax cases.

In justifying his request for his own pay raise Dowlen told the court he feels he should get at least as much as the assistant district attorney for Potter County. "He gets $12,500," Dowlen told the court.

Dowlen said he spends well over $1,000 a year out of his own pocket on county business. He told the court he will average three trips to Amarillo a week in connection with his official duties.

Dowlen asked that his first assistant be raised from $8,400 a year to $9,600 and that his secretary be raised from $4,620 to $5,100. He requested a second assistant at $675 a month and a part time assistant at $200 a month to help on taxes.

County Clerk was granted a request that Christina Davis be elevated to chief deputy county clerk and that Ron Helton be hired as administrative assistant.

Resignation of Virginia Byars, veteran deputy clerk, becomes effective Friday. Helton, 23, Canyon, will attend West Texas State University at night. His duties with the clerk's office will be largely with probate matters.

"He will work closely with Judge Pond," Hutton said. Hutton requested that the chief deputy's salary be raised from $385 to $410 and then to $450 a month in six months, that experienced deputies be raised from $340 to $350 and to $380 in March and that beginning deputies be raised from $320 to $340 and to $350 with six months experience.

Sheriff Johnston asked for $12,000 a year with $1,000 expenses. The sheriff presently draws $10,200. He asked that deputies be raised from $635 a month to $675, that the chief dispatcher be raised from $515 to $545 and that dispatchers be raised from $382 to $405 a month. He asked that the bookkeeper be raised from $415 a month to $450.

District Clerk LaQuitta Polvadore asked that her chief deputy be raised from $385 to $425 a month and that her other three employees be granted raises ranging from $10 to $60 a month. Mrs. Polvadore also recommended pay raises for each six-month increment of employment.

"I do not feel that I should make any recommendation as regards my own salary, but would ask that the court adjust my salary in line with the salaries of other elected officials," Mrs. Polvadore wrote in conclusion to her recommendations.

Fourteen Apps For Road Boss

Fourteen applications have been received for county road superintendent, County Judge Woody Pond told commissioners court Monday.

"I think we have some good applicants," Pond told the court.

George Blackwell, who handles Randall County's insurance, said the county should obtain waivers of subrogation from the cities of Amarillo and Canyon so the county could not be held responsible for accidents involving fire department equipment of the two cities outside the city limits on rural fire calls.

Randall County Criminal District Attorney George Dowlen said the statutes stipulate that both firemen and equipment fighting rural fires under contract to the county become county responsibility since the firemen thus become agents of

(see BOSS, page 9)

Bruse asked for raises ranging from $20 a month for deputy clerks to $55 a month for the chief deputy.

Mrs. Bruse also asked that Lloyd Welch, appraiser, be raised from $500 a month to $600 a month and given a car allowance of $100 a month.

She told the court that an appraiser of Welch's experience and qualifications would be getting $728 a month plus car allowance in Amarillo where the starting salary is $617.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

I got a letter this week from a reader who complains that we are not properly covering junior high school basketball.

I can understand her concern. We depend on the coaches to get the information on these games to us since it is virtually impossible to go to all of them.

We have never refused to print anything about junior high school or kids Inc., basketball that was brought to us. But the coaches don't even have time to report them all.

Here is what we are up against in trying to supply staff coverage for these contests.

There are two college basketball teams in Canyon, six high school teams including both boys and girls, 12 junior high school teams and 18 Kids Inc. teams.

This is a grand total of 38 basketball teams in this community.

Now here is what it would mean for The Canyon News to send someone to cover each team. Travel and writing time included, a sports writer can expect to spend about three hours or sometimes more staffing a game.

Basketball teams sometimes play twice a week so Canyon often is involved in 76 basketball games in a single week.

Coverage alone would come to 234 man hours.

Typesetting, page layout and printing would come to a little more than 60 man hours for a grand total of about 300 so we are looking at some seven staff members covering basketball alone.

Total cost for this operation would run roughly to $1500 a week.

We are faced with almost the same situation in football, track and summer baseball so if we undertook such a task we could expect it to be year around for a total extra outlay of some $78,000.

Advertising rates would have to be tripled. Subscription rates, which haven't been raised in 10 years, would have to jump from $5 a year to $20 just to meet the demand from this one department.

We try to solve the problem by staffing all the high school and university games we can and on those we cannot make in person we get details from coaches and team statisticians.

This is the only way we know to maintain a community newspaper that the advertiser can afford to use and the reader can afford to buy.

We are in sympathy with the reader's concern and will continue to print all the information we can get on all Canyon's basketball teams.

A lot of enthusiasm has been generated for the Nance Ranch project.

Carroll Doshier laid it on the line for Canyon Monday night when he told a group of folks here that we can't skim the cream off having the university here, that we've got to put something back.

Agriculture research for which the ranch is to be used is bound to mean a lot to Canyon and the Panhandle in years to come.

The Panhandle already is a center of the beef feeding industry and it is only logical that research in that field also be centered here.

Space wagons may be a familiar sight to Canyon folks in the not too distant future. U. S. News & World Report this week says Amarillo air field is one of three sites in the running as a space recovery station.

Runways already in existence there are capable of handling the craft.

9th Grade Wins In B B Tourney

Canyon's Ninth Grade White team took first place in its division of the junior high school basketball tournament held here last week end.

They defeated the Canyon Ninth Grade Purple 48-45 for the championship.

Boys Ranch defeated Stanton for the consolation.

Tulia defeated Dimmitt to win the eighth grade bracket. Boys Ranch won the consolation. Stanton defeated Boys Ranch in the seventh grade division and Canyon White won the consolation.

Mrs. Joe Grady Crowley and daughter Patty, get ready to make some of the hundreds of pies and cup cakes that will be served at the Junior Livestock Show that will be held this weekend. 4-H adult leaders, 4-H club members and their parents, and home demonstration club members will serve the homemade deserts, hamburgers, and other nourishments at the JLS concession stand. Money raised from the stand is used for county-wide activities.

Bufs To Face NM Team Tonight

The West Texas State Buffaloes, with a perfect record at home, face their toughest test of the young basketball season against the New Mexico State Aggies in the Amarillo Coliseum at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

It will be the third high school-university double-header of the season in the coliseum. Canyon and Pampa high schools meet at 5:30 p.m.

Last month Canyon defeated Hereford 61-51 in the Eagles' first appearance in the coliseum.

The Buffaloes will have only a two-day rest after a strenuous three-game, week-long road trip to South Texas before taking on the Aggies.

West Texas State returned home with an 82-72 victory over Houston Baptist and a 91-76 triumph over Pan American Monday night. In between the Buffs lost to Houston 90-71.

Ray Golson, Ralph Houston, Steve Davidson, Ed Fitzgerald and Brent Lake led the victory at Pan American. Golson was high scorer with 19 points as the Buffs won their seventh game — four of them at home — in 10 starts.

Houston added 17 points, Davidson contributed 13 and hauled in 19 rebounds — a season high, Fitzgerald got 12 points and Lake got 9, plus 10 rebounds.

The Aggies bring a 12-2 record into the game and have lost only to arch-rival New Mexico and Brigham Young, both on the road. They later whipped New Mexico at home.

New Mexico State is led in scoring by 6-foot-8 Jeff Smith with a 14.3 average per game. Five other Aggies also are averaging in double figures. They are Clint Davis with 12.0, Chito Reyes with 11.9, Harry Ward 11.6, Alex Scott 10.9 and Roy Neal 10.3.

The Buffaloes have only three averaging in double figures. They are Golson with 21.6, Davidson with 15.3 and Houston with 12.0.

New Mexico State is averaging 53.3 rebounds per game, slightly before West Texas State's 59.2.

The Aggies lead in the all-time series with West Texas State with 25 victories to the Buffs' 21. New Mexico State swept both games last year en route to a third place finish in the National Collegiate tournament.

Reserve and general admission seats are still available at the athletic ticket office on campus and at the coliseum.

Westside HD Has Meeting

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The oft-repeated statement, "I'm just worried to death," is usually considered to be figurative. However, according to many respected medical authorities, it may be quite literal.

Dr. Charles Mayo said, "Worry affects the circulation, the heart, the glands, the whole nervous system, and profoundly affects the health. I have never known a man who died from overwork, but many who died from doubt."

Gamble Rites Are Held In Cheyenne

Funeral services were conducted Saturday, Jan. 9, in Cheyenne, Wyo., for a Canyon native, Mrs. Wilmoth Gamble Cole, 60, who died Jan. 7 in a Cheyenne hospital. Burial was in Odessa, Texas.

Mrs. Cole was a graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State University and was the daughter of the late James D. Gamble, a former Canyon mayor, and Mrs. Gamble.

Mrs. Cole was the widow of Raymond M. Cole, former city secretary of Odessa. She went to Wyoming in 1964 as state manager for Rio Grande National Life Insurance Co., purchased a home in Cheyenne and had planned to retire there.

She received a skull fracture in a fall at her home Jan. 6 and never fully regained consciousness.

Survivors are her mother, Mrs. Ada Gamble Dawson, and sister, Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald, both of Fort Worth; three brothers, Judge James D. Gamble of Dallas, and Hal and Rex Gamble of Denver; two sons, Donald R. Cole of Denver and Robert M. Cole of Lovington, N.M., and six grandchildren.

Pond Aids In Plans

Training for law enforcement officers and judges was the subject of a planning session attended by Judge Woody Pond Tuesday morning at Amarillo College.

The courses, which will be financed by a federal grant to the state government, are intended to improve the quality of training available to law enforcement officers. They are to be taught at Amarillo College.

Dr. Otis Taylor, Jr., an internal specialist, and a graduate of Mayo Clinic said he found that 90% of his patients' ills had an emotional basis.

Dr. Edward Podolsky said that worry causes heart trouble, high blood pressure, some forms of asthma, rheumatism, ulcers, colds, thyroid malfunction, arthritis, migraine headaches, blindness, and many stomach disorders in addition to ulcers.

The most common and most dreadful disorder caused by worry is mental illness. At least half of all the hospital beds in America are occupied by mental patients. Their care costs the nation more than 3 billion dollars a year. However, the anguish of the patients, and the sufferings of their families cannot be calibrated.

Americans were horrified at the close of World War II to learn that some 350,000 of our finest young people had died in combat. The fact that more than 3 times that many civilians died from heart disease—largely caused by worry—during that same period scarcely raised an eyebrow.

Dr. Alexis Carroll said that businessmen who do not learn to conquer worry die young. More Americans commit suicide every year than die from the five most common communicable diseases. And worry is probably more contagious than any of the five.

There are many variations of the story about the fellow who was on his way to the top of the Empire State Building to jump off. While passing a psychiatrist's office, he decided to stop and see if the doctor could help him. After an hour's consultation, they both jumped.

There is a limit to everyone's endurance. The strongest man has a breaking point.

No one knows how many car accidents are caused by worry. Half, at least, of the fatal ones are reportedly caused by alcohol. But why do people drink? Alcohol is probably the most common escape from worry.

We are justifiably alarmed by youth's fascination with drugs. It has, however, been well established that happy, well-adjusted people of any age are not attracted to narcotics. What then is driving our children to drink and drugs?

Many people who would not touch either alcohol or narcotics spend every free moment engrossed in television—a milder form of escape.

If life is precious and time is fleeting, what makes people waste time and hide from life? Worry.

He who insists he cannot help worrying should remember that worrying cannot help him either.

It is true that the things we worry about seldom happen. But is that evidence that worry helps?

Everyone who lives long enough must eventually cope with sickness, sorrow, disappointment, and death. Worry never prevents such calamities; it merely hastens them.

With such a bleak future how can anyone be happy? Obviously, many people are.

There is only one satisfactory escape from worry: faith.

One troubled young man said that if he could buy faith in God at the drug counter, he would rush to the nearest drugstore.

What is this precious remedy? How does one obtain it? (We'll explore the answer next week.)

Final Local Try Outs For TEXAS

Final local tryouts for the 1971 production of the musical drama "TEXAS" will be held Saturday in the Branding Iron Theatre.

Auditions for actors, singers, and musicians will be held at 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. with dance auditions held at 3:30 p.m.

Applicants are requested to bring both school and home addresses, social security number, and photograph, at least billfold size.

Actors must be prepared to give a memorized reading, not to exceed three minutes. They will double as members of the chorus and all must audition for singing as well as acting roles.

Singers should bring one prepared number of their choice. An accompanist will be provided or the singer may bring his own. Many singers will double in minor speaking roles and/or as technician assistants, thus each must present a short memorized selection to display the quality of the speaking voice.

Those applying for dance positions in the cast should bring appropriate work-out clothing. Ballet, modern dance and/or body movement are desirable, but not required.

Other audition dates are: January 24, Women's Gym at Texas Tech University, Lubbock; February 27, at El Centro College in Dallas; and March 7 in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

The 1971 cast will be announced in April. The show in its sixth season, has over 100 salaried positions.

Canyon High School choir members who are candidates for All-State Choir honors are seated: Emily Davis and Candy Carpenter and standing: Gene Vaughn Morrison, Mike De-mus, Ron Williams, Nobie Cates, and Sammy Kerbel. The candidates will travel to Lubbock Saturday to the area-wide tryouts.

Construction Building More Than $5 Million

The money may have been tight and the construction market stifled, but permits issued by the city for building in Canyon in 1970 exceeded those for the previous two years combined.

E. A. Collie, Canyon building inspector, said Monday building permits totalling $4,801,103 were issued in 1970, compared with $1,860,642 in 1969 and $982,112 in 1968.

June proved to be the month for weddings and domiciles in 1970, with permits totalling $3,410,530. These included a $2 million permit for residence halls at West Texas State University and a $1.4 million dollar permit for additions to the campus dining hall.

The next largest building permit was issued in September to the builders of the Canyon Creek Apartments, for construction of a 100-unit apartment building at a cost of $930,000.

The housing shortage in Canyon may be eased somewhat when the $286,200 in permits for residences are used. Those who did not want to start anew in 1970 received building permits totalling $84,093 for additions to residences.

Cold weather produced a building boom all of its own, as $9,700 in building permits were issued for garages and $2,550 for carports. Canyon residents estimated $3,165 would be needed for all the storage sheds that were built.

New Crafts Shop To Open on Square

The Ticky-Tacky Shop, which will also be known as West Texas Crafts, is being prepared for a February opening at 1521 4th Avenue.

Mrs. Terry Martin, who will manage the shop, is planning to stock supplies for handcrafts and to provide instruction in working with the materials she will have available. Courses will depend on interest expressed by her customers, Mrs. Martin said.

The shop will be located in the building formerly occupied by the T. A. Black Store. Mrs. Martin is repainting the interior, but will keep the wooden safe, the vintage cash register, and the isinglass-fronted stove which were part of the store's equipment.

Supplies for decoupage, beadwork, papier mache, gold leafing, and candle-making will be stocked. The shop will also carry styrofoam forms, crepe velvet paper, swiss straw, marbles, rocks, cooking crystals, chenille stems, and paint-by-number sets, among other materials.

Classes will be free. Mrs. Martin will teach some of them herself and said she will bring in "the best in their fields" to teach others.

Craft items made by customers of the shop will be sold there.

The store will be run in conjunction with West Texas Arts, 710 23rd St., which is managed by Mrs. Martin's husband. Mrs. Jack Swartzell will assist in the new business.

Opening has been set for Feb. 10.

Penny Shewbert Weds Dan Rahlfs In Dalhart

Central United Methodist Church in Dalhart was the setting for the December 30th wedding of Miss Penny Lea Shewbert and Daniel Cook Rahlfs.

Officiant of the ceremony was the Rev. Carlton Thompson of Borger.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Harold Shewbert of Dalhart. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O.H. Rahlfs of Happy.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Don Jackson, organist, and Mrs. Bob Wilcoxson, vocalist, singing "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The church was decorated with an arch of spruce, in keeping with the Christmas season. Votive candles and a white urn of white gladiolus further decorated the sanctuary. A white aisle cloth, kneeling bench and votive candles with white velvet ribbons marking the ends of the pews completed the decorations.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was a formal gown of candlelight peau de soie and Venetian lace fashioned with an empire bodice. Pearl beading accented the round neckline.

Her veil of French illusion was attached to a headpiece of silk candlelight edged in Venetian lace and fell from the coil into a chapel length train.

She carried a bouquet of white bridal roses, gardenias and fern.

Bridal attendants were Miss Terry Ann Shewbert of Dalhart, sister of the bride; Mrs. Suzanne Shepard of Arlington; Miss Donna Knight of Lubbock, and Miss Rebecca Rahlfs of Happy, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore identical floor length formal gowns of emerald green. Their headpieces were of green illusion.

Michael Northcutt of Tulsa was best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Hobart McManigal, Jr., of Canyon; Ed Wright and Gary Culp, both of Happy; Larry Steve Stevens and James McManigal, both of Lubbock.

A reception in the church fellowship hall followed the ceremony. Guests were registered by the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Pryor of Albuquerque, New Mexico. The bride's table was centered with a silver epergne filled with white pom-poms and carnations. The groom's table was decorated with a crystal pedestal of red roses. Serving at the tables were Miss Donna Summerour, Miss Amy Finch, Mrs. Tom Moudy, and Mrs. Allen Thompson. Andy Rahlfs, brother of the groom, passed out the rice bags.

The couple departed on a wedding trip to Denver, Colorado, and on return will be at home at 2701 Patterson in Amarillo.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of West Texas State University. She received a degree in secretarial sciences and is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority. Mr. Rahlfs has a bachelor's degree in animal science and is employed with the Texas Department of Agriculture as a livestock market reporter. He was a member of Alpha Chi, Block and Bridle, and Alpha Zeta at WTSU.

Mr. and Mrs. Rahlfs hosted the rehearsal dinner on December 29th at Western Skies Restaurant.

Dowlen pointed out that workmen's compensation does not apply to volunteer firemen but does apply to paid firemen.

"This could become real sticky if you had a loss outside the city," Blackwell warned. Blackwell had suggested that the county seek some means of relieving itself of any liability.

Dowlen said the county needs a liability policy covering the actions of the fire departments outside their respective cities.

County Judge Woody Pond asked Dowlen to meet with the city attorney and other officials and work out a suitable contract.

Johnston said, "Aside from being a man of high character, Clarence is one of the most outstanding men in politics in Randall County in years. I have worked with him as a commissioner and as sheriff, and we're going to miss him. He has worked hard for Randall County, and is one of the top road men in the state. His roads are always in top shape. Anyone over the county who feels like he's done a good job should show their appreciation by coming to the meeting on Monday afternoon."

ner were given cards of prospective donors.

"We want to call on everyone," Doshier declared.

"If someone has put some money into that project he will feel closer to it and he is going to help the project and it's going to help him."

"Wouldn't you hate to go to a dance and let someone else put all the nickles into the music box?"

Doshier wound up by expressing confidence that Canyon would do its share. There was no goal set for the community but some of the campaign workers expressed hope that Canyon can raise $10,000.

Potts told the group that Amarillo is raising $50,000 and already has $40,000 pledged.

Potts explained the Nance Ranch project. It will be devoted to mother cow and feedlot technology research as well as to teaching.

Potts pointed out that although some state appropriated educational funds will be available for the school in its research projects once they are in full operation, no money is available initially to get them underway.

The 2,390-acre Nance Ranch located 6 miles east of Canyon, was donated to West Texas State University by Mrs. Lucille Nance Jones, widow of George Nance, and her husband, L. L. Jones.

Potts also pointed out that there are only four schools of agriculture in the state and that WTSU has one of them.

"Dr. Charles Smallwood and his staff are giving a great contribution to this area," Potts declared.

Dr. Smallwood is head of the WTSU School of Agriculture.

Potts said the Nance Ranch project and the WTSU School of Agriculture can be a national leader in its field.

"We are in the center of the greatest cattle feeding operation in the whole world," he noted. "We are going to benefit by being right in the middle of it."

Dr. Smallwood introduced his faculty and told something of the present operation of the school at this point. He said WTSU is cooperating with several other schools.

"It is not a competitive situation," he declared. "We have approached it from the standpoint of what is good for the people of Texas."

Dr. James P. Cornette, president of WTSU, talked briefly about the project and its possibilities.

Louis Henders, Canyon dairyman, was master of ceremonies. Hosts for the dinner included Jim Fletcher, Vernon Harmon, Richmond Hales and Henders.

Campaign leaders hope the Canyon portion of the drive will be concluded within a week.

Doshier said workers should report gifts and turn over money to Lou Ritter and Jerry LaGrone at LaGrone Funeral Home.

The court accepted a bid from Russell's Stationery for a filing cabinet for the county tax office of Mrs. Audrey Bruse.

The Russell bid was for $199. Low bid was $177.33 from Southwest Stationery. Mrs. Bruse was not pleased with the color of the cabinet from either Russell's or Southwest but said she would prefer the Russell equipment.

The only file cabinet suiting the color scheme of the office was made by General Office Supply of Amarillo and was $216.

On a motion by Commissioner John Fulgenzi the court passed a resolution that department heads should write job descriptions for all county employees.

Clarence Beckman Day will be observed in the county court room at 2 p.m. next Monday. Master of Ceremony.

and will not be back on the floor before Monday.

"If Willie can't play Friday we may have a real tough time with Muleshoe," Coach Kendrick declared. He will start Jon Green in Johnson's place in event Johnson is unable to play.

Coach Bob Schneider is looking for a contest for his girl Eagles in the Friday night game.

"Muleshoe always plays us real tough," he said.

Schneider said both Muleshoe and Tulia, the two teams who make up the district along with Canyon, are much stronger this year than last year.

Tulia is ranked fifth in the state while Canyon is ranked seventh and Muleshoe 14th. Canyon was defeated by Tuloso Midway of Corpus Christi last year in the state finals.

Girl junior varsity plays Muleshoe at 5 p.m. Friday in the junior high school gym while the boy JV's play at the high school.

The boys play the Pampa Harvesters at 5:30 today in the Civic Center in Amarillo as a prelude to the West Texas State-New Mexico State game there.

County Agent John Brazzil asked that his secretary be raised from $340 a month to $385.

The district extension service in Amarillo submitted a request that County Agent John Brazzil and Home Demonstration Agent Becky Hall be raised $400 a year by the county. The county presently pays each of the agents $2,425.80 with their salaries being supplemented by the state and federal governments.
